Is it possible to get an image of the African continent – gray or black or something that goes with the site's vibe?

Who We Are

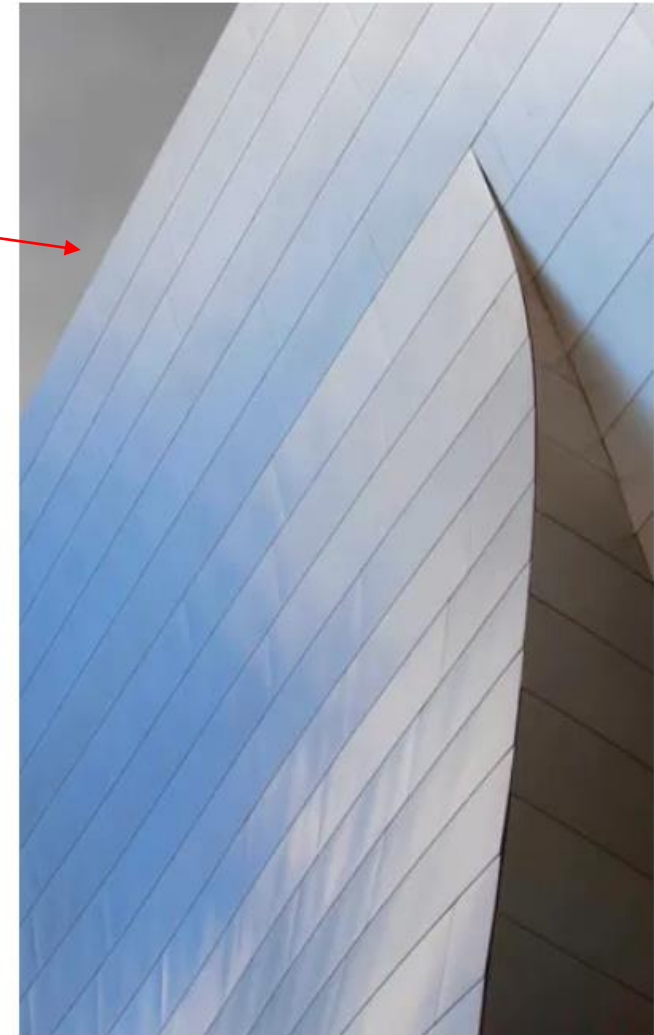

Uhuru Impact is a multi-service provider focusing on advisory services and impact investing across the African continent. We leverage our platform of business strategy and sector experts to help our clients achieve their growth and investment return goals (financial and social).

Pan-African Values

We hold dear our core values of human dignity, trust, helpfulness, respect, sharing, community, selflessness, caring and connection. We work only with partners and clients that share our aim to help entrepreneurs, companies and investors realise their financial goals in a sustainable and socially responsible way.

If you make this smaller it might be easier to read. Also some space between the 2 paragraphs as well.

Our Focus

About Us

Enabling Impact Investing

With an eye on realising high financial return and positive social outcomes, we enable venture funding for early-stage businesses showing high growth potential.

Our partners seek to invest in highly profitable businesses that also yield social return, whether in alignment with Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations, UN sustainability goals, transformation and diversity and inclusion objectives, or a combination of all three.

Can this section be the same format and font size as the Advisory one? Also ensure space between the 2 bullets/ paras.

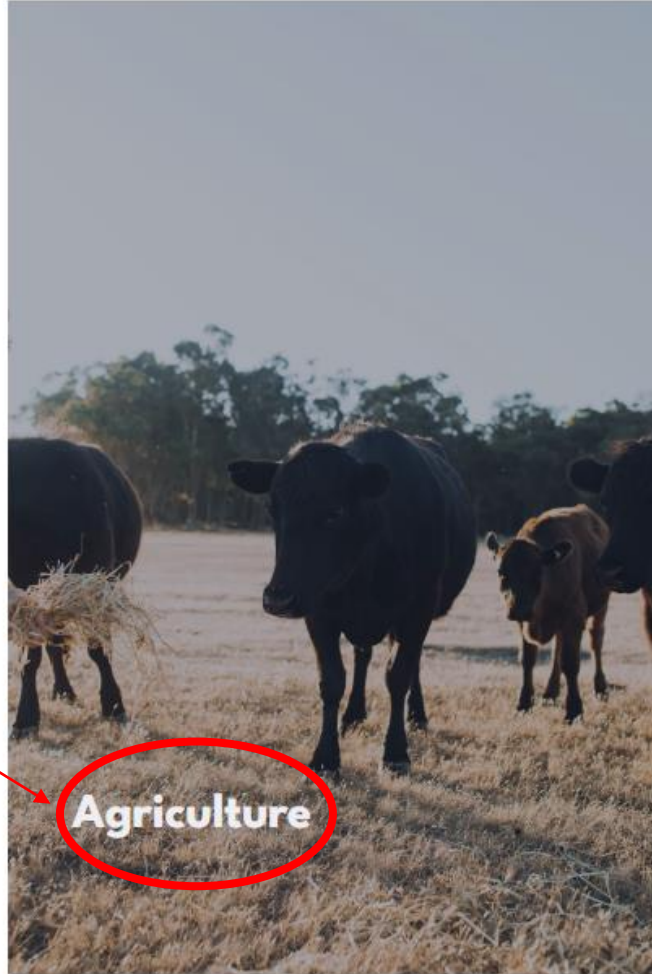

Advisory

We help our partners realise their full growth potential by offering Capital raising, Business Restructuring, Transaction Advisory and Business Development Services.

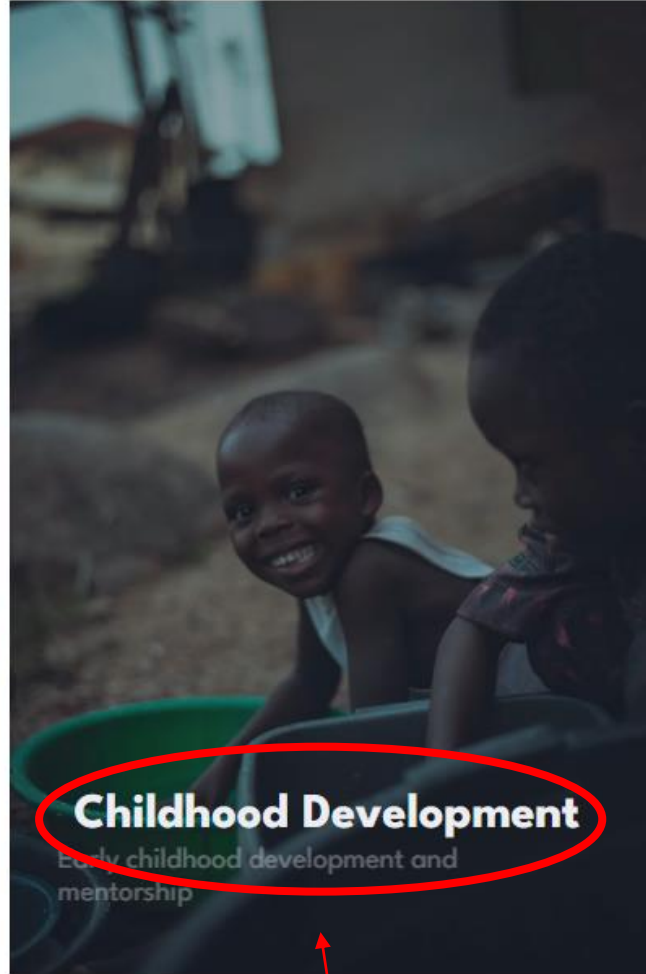

Please switch this around with the Enabling Impact Investing bit. I'd like Advisory to be more prominent.
